Information about VAT and other TAXES

The prices shown at the time of booking include VAT (or the equivalent tax) at the tax rate applicable at that moment. Should the tax rate change between the date of the booking and the date of the delivery of services, thus resulting in a disparity, the tax rate applied to the final price will be the rate applicable at the time of the delivery of services or accrual of the tax, even if the former results in an increase of the final price communicated to the client at the time of booking
